Just contacted BT Helpline, very helpful with this problem. Of course there is a trick! You disconnect power lead under the Studio 4100 base, hold down it's FIND button, reconnect the power lead while still holding down FIND, until the handset beeps and shows REGISTER. Job done! Just re-register on 4500 base unit.

I bought a BT Studio 4500 last October. I tried to register my old phone (Studio 3500), but it failed to register. I have now bought a Studio 4100 to use as a second handset, but again it failed to register. I have followed the registering instructions in the user guide several times, but each time it displays "searching",
