Wolf in the Snow - Wikipedia

"Caught in a blizzard on her way home from school, a girl in a red parka discovers a wolf pup left behind by its pack. Cordell's story is wordless, but there's a soundtrack: the cub whines, and distant howls reveal the pack's presence over the next hill. The girl's story is a hero's journey, and Cordell tells it with skill and heart."

Wolf in the snow The biting chill in the air had the girl in red draw her cloak around her shoulders tightly. She silently bemoaned the fact that she had decided that a black bodice and skirt would be fine when going to her uncle's house. She regretted that decision with every step that she took on the cold dirt path.

How does one sum up Wolf in the Snow? It's a story about two young things, a human girl and a wolf pup, overtaken by a blizzard on the prairie. The girl saves the wolf pup, and then the wolf pup and its grateful pack saves the girl. The girl is rendered as a stylized figure, almost cartoony; the wolf pup and its pack in a realistic style.

The Horn Book | Calling Caldecott | Wolf in the Snow

In a dramatic two-page spread the wolf pack can be seen walking in the girl's direction, clouds of steamy air coming out of mouths filled with pointy teeth. As the girl trudges on, head lowered to the falling snow, and the wolf pack also trudges on, a wolf cub is left behind. Eventually, the girl and the scared, lost cub meet.

WOLF IN THE SNOW | Kirkus Reviews

In this tender story, author-illustrator Matthew Cordell doesn't waste any time or space to spin the tale of two lost creatures and an act of kindness. Before we even get to the title page, we meet a girl and a wolf cub, as well as their families. As the girl heads home at the end of the school day, the snow is falling hard.
